A rain barrel is a water tank used to collect and store rain water runoff, typically from rooftops via rain gutters. A collection system can yield 623 gallons of water from 1 inch of rain on a 1,000 sq. ft. roof. Stored water can be used for watering gardens, etc. and help with the conservation of water. If you would like to win this rain barrel, complete the form below, detach it and return it to City Hall. Good Luck!
